DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee et al.

Re claim 1, Lee et al. discloses a mount comprising an orifice plate (23) defining an orifice track (interpreted by the examiner as the orifice through which slug 34 extends) having a first cross-sectional area and a slug (34) slidably disposed in the orifice track, the slug having a bore with a second cross-sectional area less than the first cross sectional area. (Figures 1 and 2)

Re claims 2, 6 and 10, Lee et al. disclose at least one stop (35, 36) disposed in the orifice track.

Re claim 3, 7 and 11, Lee et al. disclose wherein the at least one stop (35, 36) limits travel of the slug in the orifice track.

Re claim 4, 8 and 12, Lee et al. disclose wherein the bore (inner diameter of 34) has a constant cross-sectional area.

Art Unit: 3683

Re claims 5 and 9, Lee et al. disclose a mount comprising a base plate (44), a molded member (16) connected to the base plate, an orifice plate (23) connected to one of the base plate or the molded member, the orifice plate defining an orifice track having a first cross-sectional area and a slug (34) slidably disposed in the orifice track, the slug having a bore with a second cross-sectional area less than the first cross sectional area. (Figures 1 and 2)

Re claim 13, Lee et al. disclose wherein the powertrain component is an engine. (Column 1, lines 11-13)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee et al.

Re claim 14, Lee et al. do not teach wherein the powertrain component is a transmission. The examiner takes official notice that the use of vibration mounts is well known in vehicle components including transmissions in order to reduce excessive vibrations.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

McKeown et al., and Stamps et al. teach vibration dampers comprising a slug slidingly disposed in an orifice track.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
